Boers' Defensive Positions on the Biggarsberg Practically Taken.

BULLER OUTFLANKED THEM

Success Has Political as Well as Military Consequences, for It Drives Boers from British Territory.

London May 14—A special dispatch from Stone Hill Farm, Natal, dated today says

General Buller's advance commenced Thursday which he fell back upon at Springhill. When within two miles of Helpmaker the Boers opened a heavy artillery fire and the British guns replied while a portion of Buller's force worked around the Boer flanks. The British attack was pressed home Sunday. Bethune on the right outflanked the Boers whose entrenched defensive positions on the Biggarsberg were practically taken.

General Buller's march subsequent to the attack was carried out without a hitch.

The British are still pushing on. General Buller's turning of the Biggarsberg position was made by a bold movement. The Boers had evacuated Helpmaker, but were making a stand Monday evening at Bleskopdagte seven miles from Dundee.

[illegible]

At the same time General Lyttelton took Inoda and it is reported the Boers withdrew in disorder.

General Buller, who seems to be employing his full strength, is expected to push on. The first marches were 40 miles in three days. He is thus breaking into British territory which had been administered for six months by the Transvaalers as though it were part of their public. They holding courts and levying taxes. His success therefore has political as well as military consequences.

CROWDED WITH TALK

The Situation for the Parliamentarians in the Crisis of 1647.

Mr Morley in the April Century shows how Cromwell had to be [illegible] in the crisis of 1647.

In no contest in our history has the disposition of the pieces on the political chess board been more relaxed. What Oliver perceived as he scanned each quarter of the political [illegible] was Parliament in which [illegible] were [illegible] by an army of [illegible] suspected and suspicious [illegible]

He saw the city of London [illegible] the mainstay of the Parliament [illegible] the war now [illegible] peace. He saw an army in which he knew that his own authority stood high but where events were sure to show that he did not yet know all the fierce undercurrents that dark and pent up forces. Finally he saw a king beaten in the field but still [illegible] defiance in his religion his crown and his friends and holding confident that nothing could prevent him from still holding the scale between the two rival bands of his triumphant enemies. We are full of faction and worse. Cromwell wrote to Fairfax (August 10 1646) in a sentence of [illegible]

So stood things in England. Outside the kingdom he saw the combative and unyielding Scots, who had just been persuaded to return to their own country still sharply watching English affairs over the border and still capable of drawing the sword for king or for Parliament, as best might suit the play of their own infuriated factions. Finally there was Ireland distracted [illegible] difficulty and confusion, now made to the Parliament in one way against the king and now to the king in another way against both army and Parliament. The Cause in short whether Cromwell set looked so far in front or not was face to face with the [illegible] of a revolution [illegible] new campaign and war at all hazards.

There is no other cause in history where the victors in a great civil war were left entirely without the power of making their own settlement, and the vanquished so plainly umpires in their own quarrel. The beaten king was to have another chance his best and his last. Even now if we could read old history like a tale of which we do not know the end whether it should be that sentiment has drawn the reader's sympathies to the side of the king or right reason drawn them to the side of the king's adversaries, it might quicken the pulse when he comes to the exciting and fateful events of 1647 and sees his favorite cause whichever it chances to be, trembling in the scale.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

Tidal Wave of Reform Has Apparently Started.

GAMBLING HALLS MUST GO

No More Licenses Will Be Issued to Them, Writ of Mandamus Ordered in Harbeck-Guyot Case.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek May 14—The fire and police committee of the city council has instructed the police department to notify the denizens of the row to keep their windows closed and their blinds down also to keep their doors closed and not to solicit on the street. They have notified the department also to enforce this order.

The committee has also decided not to issue licenses to dance halls. The license of the Imperial dance hall expires tonight. The license of the other hall will expire the 10th of next month.

The committee gave it out also that when the licenses of the public gambling halls expire that no more will be issued. The matter of closing the gambling halls has been agitated for some time but this is the first step that has been taken with that end in view.

Harbeck-Guyot Case.

In the case of W H Harbeck petitioning for mandamus before Judge Stevens this morning, the attorneys of the Guyot G M Co. brought in a demurrer which was overruled by the court. The attorneys then moved to quash the petition on the grounds that the petition does not show specifically that any of the certificates of the stock of the Johannesburg G M and M Co was issued by the [illegible] of the books of the Guyot company that the stock was not endorsed and not stamped as the revenue stamps and that a mandamus is not the proper remedy. The motion was overruled and a peremptory writ of mandamus ordered.

Gilldon & McCarthy attorneys for the Guyot company then made an appeal to the state court of appeals and asked for a stay of proceedings until the filing of a bond and until they prepare a bill of exceptions.

Anaconda Petition Quashed.

The second petition for mandamus filed by the attorneys for the new board of trustees of Anaconda was knocked out of court by Judge Stevens this afternoon. The defense demurred to the petition [illegible] sufficient showing. The demurrer was over ruled and [illegible] defendants [illegible] Hence the [illegible] that [illegible] This motion was [illegible] by the defense that the petition was not submitted to the attorney general of the state [illegible] attorney neither one appearing for the prosecution. This was held by the court to be correct as the case was brought in the name of the People of the State of Colorado instead of the People [illegible]

The [illegible] side of Anaconda was dismissed by Justice Smith [illegible] on motion of J W Feely the attorney for the defense. The motion was made on the ground that the complaint alleged no crime. The court sustained the motion as the complaint did not allege that the judge of election was sitting as a registration board.

John Frazer sued out an attachment in Justice Smith's court today against [illegible] Cafe on Myers avenue conducted and owned by W. Granger and Joe Cox the amount of the claim being $151. A Constable Bailey took charge of the business.

RENO DEAL

Negotiations for the Purchase of the Property by C. W. Kurie Were Closed Yesterday.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, May 14—The deal which has been pending for some time for the purchase of the property of the Reno M and M Co was closed today. The deed will probably be made out some time before the end of this week. C. W. Kurie of Colorado Springs secured the property. The consideration is understood to be $100,000. In the Cue claims owned by the Reno company there are ten acres. The company is capitalized for 1,200,000 shares. As there are no debts it is likely that a dividend as much as 8 cents a share may be paid.

Two other purchases made by Kurie today are of the Jewel and Shoofly lines on Corbett hill. J H McCoy of this city has the controlling interest in both properties. The consideration for the Jewel was $40,000 and for the Shoofly $35,000. The Jewel is a very neat developed property, a shaft having been sunk on it to a depth of about 400 feet.

Work was begun Saturday by lessees Dish and Campbell on the Atlas Consolidated Company's Homer on Copper hill. For a few days yet the work will be confined to trenching in the dump which crossed the property. Later work will be taken up in the 50 foot shaft sunk by previous lessees, and in which there is a showing of ore which assays three ounces.

EDSALL, KEY & CO.'S MARKET LETTER

Messrs Edsall Key & Co in their last market letter say

At the camp everything is active. Delightful weather prevails and the lost time of the storms is being made up for by increased shifts. The roads are in good condition and crowded with ore haulers and supply wagons. The mills are being crowded with ore and the railroads find it difficult to supply cars. Prospects were never brighter, and the hills of Cripple Creek stocks were never better secured.

Coriolanus We are pleased to announce that a shipment of ore is being sacked from the north shaft of the company's workings and in the course of a week the new management will make its first shipment. While ore breaking is going on on the north end of the claim the work of development is progressing in the center the new double compartment shaft already having attained a depth of [illegible] feet. When this latter point is reached a contract will be let to sink the shaft with all possible speed to the 500 foot level. The pay ore already drawn up for that purpose. There is no doubt that Coriolanus will [illegible] a million [illegible] We believe that it will be a dividend payer inside of a year. It is the cheapest buy on the market today and we advise all our clients to take advantage of the present low figures.

Faster Bell—This is a new company in process of flotation and we have arranged with the parties interested to receive subscriptions at 8 cents per share. The directory of the company is composed of Messrs John Harnan, J. R McKinnie R P Davis J P Sweeney, W S Montgomery, all gentlemen skilled in mining and successful in their enterprises. The property of the Faster Bell company comprises 35 acres just south of the property of the Victor G M Co and strictly on the inside of the producing belt, being just west of the line of contact between the breccia and granite and so far as geological conditions are concerned, there is no reason why this ground should not contain a mine as the formation is identical with that of the Vindicator, Independence T & M, Little Isabella and other producers in that section. The company is incorporated for three million shares of which 700,000 shares and $10,000 [illegible] will be in the treasury. The policy of the company will be to develop what they consider the best portion of the property and lease the balance. With this sum of money to expend on the property they feel very confident of being able to encounter pay ore, as the trend of the fissure which runs from which so much iron ore has been shipped is directly through this ground. Should you care for any further information we will be very glad to furnish it. We enclose a list of the company's properties.

Many Canada—Development work on this property is in progress and the prospects for the future are good. Mr Wm Weston M E made an examination of the workings recently and his report is highly satisfactory to the management. This stock is a good buy and it is safe to say that it is as low as it will be.

Portland—Much interest is manifested in this big property nowadays and all [illegible] Two things are certain however and that is that the production is greatly [illegible] a week and the stock has sold ex-dividend at $2 80 per share which places the actual price at $2 82 the highest figure ever obtained for it. In companies with Mr C J Moore the mining engineer for the Portland company, Mr John Hays Hammond M E paid a visit to the mine this week and examined the workings. Just what significance this fact has we can only surmise but we do know that at the time of the Jameson raid in South Africa this same Mr John Hays Hammond was sentenced to death by President Kruger for being the confidential agent of Mr. Cecil Rhodes. This ultimatum was subsequently modified by the payment for a ring of $125,000 in cash. Through the clemency of Mr. Kruger and the payment of the fine Mr Hammond's life was spared to visit Cripple Creek. We believe the gentleman's presence in our midst is corroborative evidence of the purchase and consolidation of the Portland and other Battle mountain properties by English capital. Portland is a good buy up to $3.

He has been an alderman [illegible] having been elected four times in succession and declined the honor this year. In that city he had an interest which he recently disposed of and also [illegible] Mr Giddings [illegible] arrived here Saturday last and was making arrangements to put in an ice plant in this city. He was a cousin of A B Ogden the dairyman of this city who brought him to the office [illegible] a member of the Shriners. He was married [illegible] and has [illegible] Mrs Carrie A Giddings who is now visiting in California.

Coroner Dunn was notified but did not consider an inquest necessary. Undertaker Lampman sent the remains tonight to Fort Collins where the funeral will be held.

GERMAN COLONIZATION IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington May 14—In view of the signing and references to the Monroe regiment of the Monroe doctrine by Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and other prominent men, the state department has taken steps to secure data on the subject.

The burden of these speeches has been the statement that German colonies in South and Central America which [illegible] are menacing the Monroe doctrine. It has also been asserted that these German colonists maintain their home customs in the new land [illegible] exclusively with Germany, the only the German language, have almost autonomous governments within the limits of American republics and are in fact little Germanies wherever located.

The state department has addressed an instruction to every minister and consul in South and Central America to inform the department fully on all the points to which reference has been made. Of course Germany is not referred to by name for such a direct reflection would be [illegible] The circular applies to colonists of all nationalities though it is of course expected [illegible] will differentiate the colonists.

AFRIKANDER WOMEN ASK TO DO OFFICIALS' WORK

Pretoria Saturday, May 12 via Lourenzo Marquez—A war bulletin has been issued here announcing that the British are advancing against the federals at Helpmakaar and Tonders Nek.

The burghers this morning attacked Mafeking.

The telegraphist at Matopo says that a heavy rifle and cannon fire was heard before 6 o'clock today and that the Kaffir location was in flames within an hour and was totally destroyed. At 10 o'clock he adds everything was quieter.

At a meeting of 350 Afrikander women held yesterday it was resolved to ask the government for arms and ammunition and suggest that they do the work of the men officials in the town who they declare ought to be fighting at the front.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Money Market.

New York, May 14.—Money on call steady at 1@1½; last loan 2; prime mercantile paper 3@4½.

Sterling exchange irregular with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.86½ for demand and $4.82½@4.82¾ for 60 days. Posted rates $4.83½ and $4.86½. Commercial bills $4.81½@4.82 [illegible] silver bullion $[illegible]. Bonds steady. United States bonds unchanged. Railroad bonds irregular.

New York Stocks.

New York, May 14.—The opening in Wall-street stock market was extremely irregular and affected all day. The list prices of the majority of stocks were higher than at Saturday's close, but the best prices of the day were nowhere maintained and there were wide upends. Large in some of the industrials and specialties. The professional traders were inclined to take a bearish view and came down to the street this morning prepared to sell the whole list. They were not deterred by evidences of strength in the London market which were due to the progress of General Roberts' campaign and easier money conditions.

Traders made fierce inroads on the specialties. The bears found, however, that offerings to liquidate which were a feature of last week's market were not forthcoming and they also found themselves in a numerous company anxious to secure stocks to cover short contracts. By bidding against each other this company affected a material rally in prices. Then they paused in some discouragement and confusion. Some rather positive evidences of strength at different points added to their difficulties.

There was large buying of Burlington all day at an extreme advance of over 2 points on renewed rumors that a plan had been perfected to refund the consol bonds of 1903. The movement helped the granger group. The borrowing demand in the stock loan department of the stock exchange indicated that the short interest had become somewhat unwieldy and oversold.

In the late dealings while the market was hanging in an unsteady condition at a high level the steel industrials suddenly gave way all around. The general break and the close was active and weak with the gains largely reduced.

Fears are felt that the easier money conditions should be only temporary and that a disposition is manifest to curtail speculation until this becomes more settled. There was considerable activity in the bond market but the tone was irregular. Total sales $1,250,000.

U. S. reg and new 4s declined ¼ in bid price.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 14.—Wheat gave evidence of a firmer tone at the outset opening a shade up for July and advancing smartly afterward to 70⅝c. Around 68 the offerings which had been small under that figure became more free and the price fell back. The main influence consisted of higher cables, of backward crops in Germany and France and fears in Austria, together with domestic advices of rain in Illinois, dry weather in the northwest and chilly times in Kansas. The market continued on its strong course for a while after the close of a follow-ing in a narrow path and exciting interest.

The trade in oats was mostly local and furnished nothing of interest or importance.

The provision market was quiet but strong all day.

London Market.

New York, May 14.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cable says: The markets here were firm during the early part of the session, the favorable influences being the good news from Lord Roberts and General Buller and easier money. But the public did not come in and the professionals in their enthusiasm under the spur of the dispatch telling of the advance in Natal, went ahead too far, precipitating a reaction and caused an irregular close. The settlements showed only a trifling speculative commitment.

Americans were above parity all day and they showed strong although unnecessary tendencies in them were at no time on a large scale. [illegible]

Metal Market.

New York, May 14.—The week opened very unsettled in the metal market. Cables were weak and decidedly lower, under the influence of the prevailing peace talk. At first there was some speculation here. The tone was weak and lower, sterling [illegible] and from warehouse [illegible] lake copper unchanged at $16.75; spelter quiet at $4.50@4.55. Lead was lower and unsettled at $3.90@4.02½.

The brokers' price for lead $3.80 and copper $16.75.

Chicago Cattle.

Chicago, May 14.—Cattle, receipts 25,000. Native steers good to prime steers $5@5.70; poor to medium $4.25@4.90; selected feeders $4.25@5; mixed stockers $3.75@4; cows $3@4.60; heifers $3.25@5.15; canners $2.50@3; bulls $2.50@4.25; calves $4.50@6.50; Texas fed steers $4@5.15; bulls $3.25@3.75.

SIBERIAN GOLD.

Russian Who Has a Concession in

New York, May 13.—New gold fields, valuing in richness the deposits at Cape Nome, will be opened to American miners if the expectations of the promoters of the Russian expedition which arrived last night on the Campania are fulfilled.

Vladimir Wonlarlarsky, a colonel of the Russian imperial guard, obtained the concession of the west Siberian tract which the expedition is to examine. There were more than forty applicants for the grant which had been sought with eagerness since the discovery of gold on the American side of the Behring sea.

By means of court influence Wonlarlarsky carried off the prize. He formed a company in Russia which planned the present expedition headed by A. Bogdan, [illegible] Russian engineer. It is understood that a subsidiary company had been formed in England in connection with a concession but secrecy is maintained in regard to the English and American interests. Miners who have visited the Siberian coast by stealth have reported that it is practically the same as Nome coast consisting of a strip of beach behind which lies a belt of gold bearing sand which has been thrown up by the action of the waves and frozen.

Many companies have been formed to work dredges and dumps on the west side of Cape Nome in order to draw up the precious sand where it reaches the beach. It is expected that the operation of these appliances will be diverted to the beach interested their apparatus is. Much large capital has been invested will be idle unless new fields are opened as it, if the exposition to Siberia, Hoogley, expects the company will invite the miners and dredges to cross to the Siberian shore and operate there upon payment of a royalty.

Hooley, the English promoter, has nothing to do with the plan. George D. Roberts, who is a veteran California miner, will be a member of the exploring party. Mr. Roberts has made a study of gold deposits on sun sands and has a plan for extracting the gold from the frozen tundras. The expedition will sail from San Francisco about June 1 after the Russian officials have conferred with the Russian minister at Washington. It will return about November 1 and expects then to be able to make a complete report of the possibilities of the region.

Mr. Roberts said today that the information which he had received in the point of gold in Siberian coast promised to be the most valuable ever discovered. The navy hopes to be able to make some contracts with American owners of pumps and dredges.

NEW KIND OF CHURCH

[illegible] Ohio, May 12.—Rev. F. [illegible] Patton, a young Christian minister of this city, preached from the stage of Burt's opera house tonight. He said:

"By the [illegible] of the church more people are doomed to eternal perdition than [illegible] by the saloon, or any other influence. Place no faith in all [illegible] churches. Mark my words that there will be a reformation that will shake the religious world to its foundation. Isms and schisms will [illegible] like a broken parachute."

Rev. Patton will arrange for a church edifice and will have in the building billiards, pool, bowling, etc.

Boers Will Install Big Hoist in Rand District

R. P. Morse, a native of England, who is now on route to Butte, Mont., thinks the Boers will blow up the Johannesburg mines before they give their country to the [illegible]. A [illegible] recently and [illegible] at the city and [illegible] the mission in Montana is performed. Under the feeling of exuberance at the relief [illegible] of our troops, said, there is a panic throughout the Boer ranks. They will do the damage they can before abandoning the seat of war. The allies are at their mercy and many of the owners, who reside in London, believe their property will be destroyed if some measure can not be taken to cause a hasty evacuation of the Rand district by all Boer sympathizers. The consternation created by the failure of President Kruger to [illegible] the Eng. State troops, is said to have spread to the Transvaalers and their hasty trekking northward is not only to avoid battles with the British but to prepare their country for the final effort that will decide their fate. The people, it is [illegible] giving over everything to the British, they will blow up all the mines. A [illegible] actively and large [illegible] their path as they go. As to the result of the war, there is but one voice in England's domain—that is that Boers will be in Pretoria before the [illegible] July. Try as I may to take of confidence in his ability and the way things are going now certainly makes us [illegible]. The only draw back is that secret fear that the best mines of the Rand ridge will be rendered useless for months to come should the Boers attempt to take revenge in that manner.

Asked as to his mission, Mr. Morse was reticent, simply stating that he was a private subject of the queen and was in America on private business. He left London last month and has been in New York during the few days not taken up in traveling this far.

NORMAL.

BASEBALL BOYS FROM GREELEY PLAY HERE TOMORROW.

Visiting Team Will Be Made up of Normal School Students and Others.

A baseball game will be played on Washburn field tomorrow afternoon between the State Normal team and Colorado college that promises to be the best that has been played here this year. The visiting team will not be made up wholly from the State Normal but from the entire northern part of the state. The reason for this is that the Normals team is not considered strong enough to cope with the local team, but there are a number of good players in the vicinity, [illegible] constitute an aggregation that will be able to give the local boys quite trouble to defeat.

Jones will probably pitch for the local team and the rest of the team will be about the regular line-up.

INJURED BY FALL FROM [illegible]

A peculiar but it is thought no fatal accident occurred on a west bound Manitou car last night between 9 and 10 o'clock. The accident occurred between Manitou and Colorado City while the car was going at full speed.

Frank Williams, who lives at 113 South Cascade avenue, with his mother, proprietor of the Silver State rooming house, was on the car and riding in the front end of the trailer. He wanted to get to the rear and began going back by way of the foot board.

When about half way back he either lost his balance or his foot slipped. He fell from the car with considerable force on the hard road. The car was stopped and backed to the place. Williams was unconscious and was thought to be badly hurt. The car was then backed to the city and he was taken to his home. Medical attendance was summoned and at last accounts he was resting easily.

BRIEF CITY ITEMS.

The nondenominational monday [illegible] meeting at the First M. E. church will be led today by Mr. Winkler. All are welcome.

W. P. Marlow has been appointed administrator of the estate of Mahela Farnum deceased.

Fountain creek has washed out a considerable portion in the east end of Eighth street, just south of Colorado avenue.

On Decoration day the baseball event will be the game between the railroad employees of the Rio Grande and Rock Island and the Santa Fe and Colorado teams. The proceeds of the game will go to the Bellevue hospital and this fact will doubtless bring out a large crowd while the expectation of an interesting match will draw the fans. The men who handle freight for the four railroads mentioned contain among their number a good assortment of old-time diamond knights and they have been limbering up their muscles during the past two weeks and find they have not forgotten how to play the game. There is intense rivalry, of a friendly nature, between the two teams and each is anxious to down the other. Each team boasts a good battery and fair in-field.

The members of Kit Carson circle No. 9, L. of G. A. R., will meet in regular session next Friday, 2:30 p. m. Each member must prepare a brief sketch of the brave deeds executed by the famous scout Kit Carson. The advisory board are earnestly requested to attend and invite other comrades. Light refreshments will be served. No charge for admittance.

There will be a house-warming at the Frances Willard home, 532 East Costilla, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. A short programme will be given and light refreshments [illegible] served. All [illegible] and [illegible] are cordially invited to be present and take part in the [illegible] will [illegible].

Work was started on the excavating for the new Standard smelter at Colorado City. Ord & Co. have charge of the work.

Superintendent A. C. Ridgway of the [illegible] was in the city last night. [illegible] on the line and contractors will make another effort to secure the required number. At present there are 2,000 at work and a steady stream of men going up almost daily from different points, but with the advanced condition of the work there is room and work for a thousand more. The report of supply of laborers in Colorado has been exhausted. The idea generally is that contractors that desire to [illegible] must have to beg men to go to work on the grading, at wages seldom to be had in such work.

Pearl E. Cary, a prominent railroad man of the western part of Kentucky, is in the city in search of a location. Mr. Carr began railroad life as a telegraph operator and is now one of the oldest and most accomplished ticket agents in the business. For several years he has been handling the heavy ticket business of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad, operating jointly with the B. O. and S. W. and L. N. at Owensboro, Ky. While here he is the guest of Dr. Ray in Manitou.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church will hold a meeting in the church annex at which the ladies of the congregation are invited. The business of this meeting will be to start a deaconess fund in the church. Come prepared to contribute. Misses Pearl Hawes and Daisy Brunk will render solos and a [illegible] will be served.

Can't Stand Cold

Many children can't stand cold weather. The sharp winds pierce them, and the keen air nurts them. They have cold after cold, lose flesh, and spring-time finds them thin and delicate.

Scott's Emulsion

will make such boys and girls hearty and strong. The body is better nourished, and they are better protected. The blood becomes richer, and that makes them warmer.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50 cent and $1.00, all druggists.

Travelers tell you they never go on a trip without a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in my medicine chest. Doctor: Young man, the best traveling companion for anyone is a bottle of DUFFY'S PURE MALT. It has saved a great deal of suffering during the last forty years when people traveling have been taken with a chill or a sudden cold. You should never be without it. You can buy it at any druggist's or grocer's, or direct from Rochester, express prepaid for $1 a bottle. Be sure you get the genuine. Send for their free book; it will tell you all about it.

Blood Troubles:

Cancer, Scrofula, Old Sores, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Chronic Ulcers.

As the blood contains all the elements necessary to sustain life, it is important that it be kept free of all impurities, as it becomes a source of disease instead of nourishing the body, and loss of health is sure to follow. Some persons enter the blood from without, through the skin by absorption, or inoculation; others from within, as when waste products accumulate in the system and fermentation allowing disease germs to develop and be taken into the circulation. While all blood troubles have one common origin, each has a peculiarity of its own. Contagious Blood Poison, Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Eczema and other blood diseases can be distinguished by a certain sore, ulcer, eruption or inflammation, appearing on the skin. Every blood disease shows sooner or later on the skin, and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. Many mistake the place of outward origin for the local disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other local applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment.

—LOCAL TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES— the poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, potash and arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed in this class of diseases, are violent poisons, even when taken in small doses, never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already overburdened, diseased blood.

SSS

S. S. S., Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antidotes and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of success and cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin trouble.

Free Medical Treatment.—Our Medical Department is in charge of skilled physicians, who have made blood and skin diseases a life study, so if you have Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Eczema, an Old Sore or Ulcer, or any similar blood trouble, write them fully for advice about your case. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence. We make no charge for this service. Book on blood and skin diseases free. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Went to jail and Forgot His Name

"Timothy Fitzgerald," called the police court clerk. But silence reigned supreme. The incident was the calling up of the vags who were arrested in the railroad yards on Sunday night.

"Timothy Fitzgerald," again called out the clerk rather impatiently, while he wondered what was the matter. No one answered and the clerk clerk called each of the culprits by name with the mental vow that Timothy Fitzgerald should be sorry for his refusal to answer. There was Shirtsen in the 11 assorted crew and when all had answered to name save another the man Timothy had not yet been discovered.

Finally one of the men spoke up and said that he did not think that he had given the right name when he had been arrested but that he had entirely forgotten the name which he had given at that time. The names on the tickets were then read and he did not claim possession of any. It was therefore decided that Timothy Fitzgerald was the name to which he should have answered and he was permitted to give the proper name.

Campbell's thirst was the leading cause that led to the raid on the railroad freight yards on Sunday night and the police were well rewarded for their pains. Thirteen dirty, hungry looking vags being the result of their labors. All but two were fined heavy fines and committed to leave the city, while they were arraigned before the magistrate. The two were boys not more than 15 years of age, who did not look the professional "hobo," and who said that they were anxious to secure work. They will be given the opportunity and will be assisted in every way by the police department.

Even without the thirteen vags, the session of police court would have been a busy one. Eight prisoners were arraigned, most of them being drunks. Lewis Atkinson was one of the exceptions. He had some trash dumped on the street one day last week and the wind catching the paper contained therein scattered it promiscuously. The well known contractor was fined $5 and costs, which he paid. John Quackenboss was up on a charge of disturbance. He was fined $5 and costs. The fine was suspended and he was given time to pay the costs. George Stevens, a plain drunk, was committed in lieu of the payment of a fine of $5 and costs. Peter Langan, another drunk, got $5 and costs and was committed. Dan Lane, a vag, got $10 and costs and was committed. E. B. Wells was charged with disturbance but the complaining witness failed to appear and the case was dismissed.

The last case on the docket was that against A. M. Manlove, an expressman, who forgot to pitch his horse. It was his first offense and on promise that it would not occur again, a small fine of $1 and costs was assessed and the costs suspended.

Refused to Help Pay and Was Stabbed

A cutting affray occurred at the Garden Ranch last Sunday about 5 o'clock between Robert Massey, lessee of the ranch, and Frank Fakler, one of the lessees of the gardens, with the latter as the victim.

All the lessees of the Garden Ranch property have been in possession about six weeks. Pete Fakler, a brother of the man who was stabbed, was formerly foreman of the ranch but when Massey leased the property, went into partnership with his brother Frank in leasing the gardens.

From Fakler's story there has been trouble ever since the lease began by reason of the fact that there are no fences on the farm and the horses and cattle from the dairy range on the gardens. Yesterday afternoon Fakler went to see Massey in regard to the matter. He did not find Massey at home but as he was returning he met the man for whom he had been seeking. Fakler told Massey that he (Massey) must keep his stock off the gardens.

"All right," answered Massey, according to the story told by Fakler. "You build one-half of the fence and I will build the other half. Then there will be no bother about the matter."

"I will help to build no fence," answered Fakler. "But I tell you that you must keep your stock off my garden."

With this Massey became incensed and used a variety of language, said Fakler. "Hot words passed between us and several names were called. Massey started his horse toward me and I backed away. I was finally forced down into a ditch and from there into a swamp. The horse followed me and dragged me down. A short scuffle ensued and the knife was driven into my left shoulder."

The wound, while very painful, is not a serious one. It is said that after the cutting Mrs. Fakler ran out and told her husband that she would take him to a physician at once. "No need to do that," said Massey, according to Fakler's story,

TRACK TEAM OF THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

The annual field meet of the State Interscholastic Athletic association is scheduled to take place at Berkeley Park, Saturday, May 26.

This association is composed of the schools of High school standing throughout the state.

The team from the local High school has been picked by the captain and is now training hard every day.

The chances of winning the pennant this year are believed to be very favorable.

The local meet held by the school May 5 was the most successful ever carried out by the High school. There was more new material developed than in any single meet.

The team which will represent the school this year, as picked by Captain Arch MacDonald, will very probably be made up of:

Sprinters—MacDonald, Hobbs, Sill and Terrill.

Jumpers—Fuller, Terrill and Spicer.

Shot putters—Sill, Thomas and Fuller.

Pole vaulters—Fuller, Thomas and Spicer.

The "bike" races will be very ably looked after by McKeehan, Lee, Colburn, Morse and Keith.

The events of the meet will be the following:

One hundred yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, 120 yard hurdle, standing broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump, shot put, hammer throw, one-half mile relay, one-fourth mile bicycle, one mile bicycle, five mile bicycle.

SECOND CONCERT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS

Certainly Prof. Pearson and the whole high school faculty have great reason to be proud of the last concert of this season which was given in the auditorium last night. It was thought that the concert given a week ago would be the last of the season but so many were turned away and so great was the demand for a repetition that it was given last night.

Tom Richards' voice was never better than it was last night and he had the house with him from the first. It seems that his voice increases both in volume and power every week, and if the improvement continues, he has a great future before him. Mrs. Tucker assisted the chorus by a number of solos. A musical performance of local talent in which Mrs. Tucker does not take part is not complete. The programme was an exact repetition of the first concert.

NO HUMBUG HERE

Colorado Springs Endorsement is What Counts With the Colorado Springs Public.

You can't fool the public all the time. They will find you out at last. Every time a man is fooled Another skeptic is made. Many the remedy that makes the skeptic.

Because it fails to keep its promises. Many a Colorado Springs reader has been fooled by worthless kidney remedies. They hung the skeptic. Plenty of proof of this at home. Colorado Springs proof for Colorado Springs people.

Here's a case of it:

Mr. J. W. Brauer, of 222 Willamette ave., says: "After tinkering with all sorts of medicines from doctors for my kidneys and after being compelled to give up a good business because I could not stand the work on the wagon, when Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s store, 31 North Tejon street, cured me, I am only too pleased to let the people of Colorado Springs who suffer with kidney complaint and its companion, backache, know of a remedy upon which they can depend."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

THE INDEFINITE RESOURCES OF COLORADO

[illegible] that [illegible] a few years ago [illegible] a few short years [illegible] a marvel [illegible] Yet it is true beyond question that all that has been done so far is but a beginning of the industrial, agricultural and mining development of the state.

Take the single group of occupations and productions dependent directly and indirectly upon the economical utilization of the water power of the state. What a wonderful possibility of increase exists in this direction. Within the past month there has run to waste more water than will be used in Colorado throughout the year. Our reservoir system has only just been entered upon, and yet water is of so much value in Colorado that the time never comes when every drop will be carefully stored and then put to a double use, first to furnish power and afterwards for irrigation. The tremendous force of the mountain streams of Colorado is sufficient of itself to ensure us a high position as a manufacturing state. It will build cities where none exist at the present time, and it will in time reproduce in our mountain valleys the conditions that exist in some of the Swiss cantons where each farm house is in the winter months the seat of a well-organized and profitable industry.

The possibilities of Colorado agriculture are not yet known. Certainly the area of land under cultivation will be much greater than it is now, and the acres will be much more intensely and profitably worked than they are at present. Within the past few years the beet sugar industry has worked a revolution in farming methods in many parts of the state, and it is reasonable to expect that from time to time other changes will be made. It is not probable that Colorado will ever be a large exporter of agricultural products. On the contrary every indication points to a dense population that will consume all our home products and even send out of the state for more. With a home market assured, it is not likely that Colorado farmers and stock raisers of the future will send their products to compete with the cheaper products of Kansas or Nebraska or the states farther east. The rapid growth of population in the cities and in mining regions at an altitude where tender crops can be successfully grown on irrigated land will lead to keen the demand for farm products in advance of the supply and cultivation of all the arable land of the state [illegible] steadily being about the reclamation and [illegible] in every other direction, whatever way we turn, the undeveloped resources of the state [illegible] Colorado is exceptionally rich in coal, and under present conditions this is perhaps the most essential element for a dense population and industrial prosperity. Our coal areas have been justified by the work already done, but that is [illegible] Cheap coal in connection with iron ores of high quality and almost unlimited quantity will surely make Colorado the great manufacturing state of the west, as Pennsylvania is of the east.

The mining interests of the state outside of coal and iron are still in their infancy. There are priceless stores of gold, silver and copper untouched in the mountains, waiting only the stimulus of enterprise and the reward of perseverance for hundreds of years [illegible]

The main lines of our railway system have been laid, but there will be profitable business for thousands of additional mileage. Such valleys as those of the Yampah, the White, the Dolores, the Gunnison, North Fork and the head waters of the Grand and the North Platte are without the railroad facilities to which their resources and extent surely entitle them.

Another resource of the state, boundless in its extent and scarcely touched upon so far, is the attractions offered to health and pleasure seekers. Colorado is qualified to be the sanitarium as well as the summer resort of the United States, and while the state has justified her claims in both these particulars, she has done comparatively little towards the building up of this business upon the scale that the circumstances of the future will surely justify. At a few points there are hotels that invite the sojourner or tourist to linger, a few miles of road have been built that are an encouragement to travel by carriage, a few trails have been constructed to view points of special scenic interest, and that is all. The Colorado of the future will be a different sort of state in these particulars.

The undeveloped resources of Colorado are bewildering in their extent and their variety. But it will not do to believe, as is sometimes done, that these will suffice of themselves for the growth and prosperity of the state. The development of our social, intellectual and political life should keep pace with the growth of our material wealth. Colorado should be noted for its schools and colleges not less than for its mines and ranches. Wise and liberal laws impartially enforced; honesty and competency in public office; intelligence, integrity and thrift among the people; these are necessary conditions for the proper growth of the state and the welfare and happiness of its citizens.

WHY M'KINLEY WILL WIN.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY will win in the coming presidential election because his candidacy is in accordance with the spirit of American institutions and of American progress, and also because he represents the material interests of the American people.

The Democracy is on the wrong side of all the main issues. The Republicans are on the right side. The Democracy is on the unprofitable side and it is on the unfruitful side.

There is not one of the main issues presented by the Democracy upon which it ought to win, and there is no better proof of this than the fact that it does not state any one of these issues fairly, clearly and honestly.

What a tissue of fraud and misrepresentation is the platform of the Democratic party in its treatment of the important issues of this campaign! [illegible] The incoherent and illogical [illegible] working out the problems which [illegible] with care and [illegible] and success. The difficulties are great, the dangers many, but the failures are few. In the great majority of cases it is doing not only the right thing, but the only thing possible under the circumstances.

And under the general title of "imperialism," there is a list of minor issues upon which the attitude of the Democracy is just as unreasonable and just as insincere as upon the main point. What utter folly to exalt Aguinaldo as a patriot, what ignorance to claim that the Filipino "nation" is fighting for its liberty [illegible] facts in denouncing the civil government of Porto Rico as an injustice and a cruelty to that island. What demagoguery there is in picking up every trivial shortcoming of administration, the small amount of spoiled supplies, the defalcation of a postoffice subordinate in Cuba, the rash act of some lieutenant in Luzon, and making these the basis for an attack upon the character and the honor of the American war department or the people of this country.

In the attitude of the Democratic party towards the trusts the same insincerity is apparent. They are fertile in wholesale denunciation and threats, but they propose nothing that is practicable and that would stand the test of court decisions. The careless citizen who would take their invectives at the value which appears [illegible] cratic success would be followed by the banishment of "trusts" from the land, if he did not stop to think that such a wholesale revolution of economic conditions and methods is impossible, and if it were possible it would be destructive and calamitous beyond measure, but [illegible] cratic speeches and platforms are not intended for the voters who stop to think.

The attitude of the Democratic party on financial matters is absolutely insincere. The members of the party are totally at variance upon this important matter, and it is impossible for them to present a coherent and [illegible] policy. To the west they must present a silver shield with a steady blackard of free and unlimited silver coinage; to the east the silver side must be carefully concealed or treated as of small importance, while at the same time the Populists must be conciliated with a tolerance of their fantastic theories of an irredeemable paper currency and the uselessness of metallic money of any kind.

To a far greater extent than usual, this year's election is going to be a test of the good sense, the intelligence and the shrewdness of the American people.

There is not a fair-minded, honest and intelligent man in the country who would decide, upon a truthful presentation of the facts, that the interests of the American people require the continuance of the Republican party in power.

The vast body of voters who will cast their ballots next November is such a jury, and there is no danger that it will be misled by the efforts of Democratic conventions, speakers or newspapers to bring its mind and to misrepresent the facts as they exist.

And that is why Benjamin Harrison McKinley will be reelected.

MR. TOWNE'S NOMINATION.

IN view of the comment in the Populist and Democratic newspapers upon Mr. Towne's nomination at Sioux Falls, it seems very strange that he ever received the votes necessary to a nomination.

Mr. Towne's friends are declaring that it was a great mistake to nominate him and detrimental to his interests, because the Democrats will never accept a ready-made ticket from the hands of another party.

The Populists are objecting because, as they say, Mr. Bryan is a Democrat and Mr. Towne is a silver Republican, and if the Populist convention was going to nominate candidates for both offices, it might have nominated at least one man who was a member of its own party.

The Democrats object to Mr. Towne's nomination because it puts them in a hole, it being about equally dangerous to accept or reject him.

And, finally, the fusionists of all shades and stripes object to the nomination because the convention ought to have appointed a conference committee composed of men who would take with proper meekness the orders of the Democrats, for is not that the main end and object of fusion?

However, a good deal of the worry about Mr. Towne is unnecessary. We are informed upon the best of authority that Mr. Towne is equipped with all the modern improvements necessary to a fusion candidate. That is to say, he has a reliable string attached to him which may be pulled at the proper moment. Mr. Towne knows that the string is there and will not object to its use.

The [illegible] and some little consternation in the fusion ranks is not a real candidate, but only a dummy. At the right time he will disappear as though he never existed, and the Kansas City convention will find the way clear for whatever action it may choose to take.

To an outsider it may appear as though it was rather hard on Mr. Towne, but it is something to have been a candidate for the president even for two months only, and upon the nomination with a string of a Fusion Populist convention.

THE CUBAN POSTOFFICE FRAUDS

THE discovery of dishonest transactions in the Cuban postoffice department is likely to cause a more disagreeable feeling in this country than in Cuba, where the people under Spanish rule have grown used to that sort of thing. Since the Americans have assumed control of the island's affairs it has been a continual surprise to the Cubans, both that the officials were honest and that they were expected to be so.

Among without exception the record made by the Americans has been a magnificent one and the entire country has felt a pride in the way in which cities have been cleaned, rural districts pacified, official abuses of all kinds corrected, justice administered and finances regulated, and an almost any evidence of speculation of bribe taking or misappropriation of funds.

The frauds in the postoffice department come as a disagreeable reminder that the Americans are not perfect in their official character, and that an occasional black sheep will creep in among the throng of honest men.

Prompt and exemplary punishment should be inflicted upon the man Neely and any who may be found to be implicated.

[illegible] crime than mere embezzlement. They have brought disgrace upon the American people, and so far as is in their power they have disgraced the flag. Soldiers have been shot for crimes of less importance than that which they have committed, and an example should be made that will prove to the Cubans now the great republic punishes those who have betrayed its trust.

THE NORTH FORK VALLEY.

ONE of the sections of Colorado most worthy of the attention of the prospective settler is the valley of the North Fork of the Gunnison river. Owing to the fact that the railway line is depicted to the south this rich region has not received the attention it deserves, and it is possibly for that very reason that it offers opportunities at the present time that an older and more accessible country does not possess.

In spite of its out-of-the-way-ness, the North Fork, by reason of its rest richness, has made very notable progress and several little towns have sprung up among which may be noted Hotchkiss, Paonia and Cory, which, as soon as the inevitable railway is completed, will take their proper rank among the live and rapidly-growing communities of the state.

Especial attention is being called to the resources of the North Fork at the present time for the reason that the Hotchkiss Times, a North Fork paper, has issued a handsome special edition, in which the resources of the valley and the enterprise of its citizens are presented in most attractive form. The circulation of this number has justly attracted much favorable comment and has already brought many new settlers to share in the benefits there described.

EDUCATION IN THE PHILIPPINES.

ONE of the first acts of the new Philippines commission was to appoint an American educator of the first class as superintendent of education for the islands. This gentleman, who has been employed as principal of the high school at Springfield, Mass., will visit some of the more notable schools in the United States, including those for Hampton and Tuskegee, before sailing.

It [illegible] that it should thus early have recognized the importance of the task of bringing the people of these islands into harmony with modern civilization.

Without education the Filipinos can never be capable of self-government and the only authority that can be maintained over them will be one based on force. It is necessary to enforce by strict military rule. It is, therefore, of the highest importance that an educational system according to American ideas should be promptly established in the islands, and in doing this the American government is conferring the best gift that is within its power.

One of the best proofs of the improvement in Republican prospects is afforded by the increasing bitterness of the Democratic press. No doubt all the resources of calumny, rhetorical and political, will be exhausted in the coming campaign, but we have too much faith in the fair-mindedness and good sense of the voters to believe that the result will be anything else than the exact opposite of what is intended by their authors.

The expedition to capture [illegible] Colorado [illegible] for the national zoological park is not the only one of the kind. Another noted hunter is going to western Alaska after bear. The kind particularly wanted is what is known as the [illegible] variety, an unusually large and fierce white [illegible] it is said has never been captured alive.

[illegible] railroad [illegible] in favor of the adage that it is a poor rule that won't work both ways and it has therefore put into effect a "home seeker's" rate from St. Paul to New York and New England. In [illegible] Minnesota sending home missionaries to Massachusetts.

A novelty in the way of an excursion will be one to see the eclipse. A steamship will start from an English port and will bring its passengers into the center of the eclipse off the coast of Portugal. The journey will take about 15 days. The performance is guaranteed to take place as advertised but the weather is not indicated.

The report that Governor Pingree of Michigan will act with the Democrats this year has been denied by the governor himself. Like Senator Hoar, he probably thinks it is better to remain with a party that makes an occasional mistake than to go with one that is almost always wrong.

THE TROLLEY CAR'S SOLILOQUY

Over the jolly rails I jump!
Sparks from my slow-footed wheels fly
Laughing!

When I am in a comic joint I'm my

And see all the merriments within reach
For some gold nuggets. Oh, you I'm an peach.

As I bump,
And hump,
And over the corduroy roadbed jump!
Wow!

Crawl, crawl, crawl;
Haste is not to be thought of at all;
Procrastination is my strongest hold;
It always is stronger when weather is cold.
To passengers careless I don't do a thing;
When they start to go out, see 'em balance and swing
As if to a quadrille, and to straps wildly cling,
And then fall,
Likewise sprawl.
As I stop with a thud and make fools of them all!
But!

Leap! Leap! Leap!
Before all dumped at one end in a heap!
Never a warning I give when I start
But lurch madly forward with dangerous dart!
Stop! till a fellow is safe on the street;
It's such sport to see him go near off his feet
And work him right up to a jolly white heat!

And then creep
Ankle-deep
Through the mud where I dumped him to make him feel cheap!
Hooray!

Thump! Thump! Thump!
The fellow who goes me is a big chump!
And yet he's compelled to, for I'm the whole thing.
Though at me he may much indignity fling;
I know I'm not popular—what do I care?
I go my own way with serenity rare,
And I rattle your bones and I gobble your fare

As I bump,
And hump,
And over my corduroy roadbed jump!
Whoop!

Military Poll Tax.

Editor Gazette:

Will you kindly inform me if an ex-soldier of the Spanish war is exempt from military poll tax. I understand the assessor has issued instructions that the only persons exempt from those over forty years of age are those who have served the civil war and those who have served five years in the state militia. Is this correct? Can the exemption apply to an ex-soldier of the civil war and not to one of the Spanish war, no matter whether he served in Cuba or in the Philippines? A little information on this point would be appreciated by

A Kicker.

Sec. 3029 Mills' Ann. Stat. provides that all persons who have served in the army or navy of the United States, and who have been honorably discharged from such service, shall be exempt from enrollment in the militia of this state and also from payment of any military poll-tax levied in this state.

In our judgment this applies to soldiers and sailors in the Spanish-American war who have been honorably discharged from the service.

PROSPEROUS FLORENCE

(Florence Tribune.)

For several years after the completion of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad the cranks and office seekers [illegible] that it was this enterprise which made Florence. Later when rumor had it that the road was going to remove its terminus to Canon City, many feared that the change would unmake Florence.

But it has now been clearly shown that Florence has reached a point [illegible] of a single industry does not materially effect its commercial status. Notwithstanding it carries passengers out of this place it is what is little better than a dog cat, and runs its train in the way of time as the train crew in the way of business. Florence continues to know at a phenomenal rate. With her industries, the future of Florence was never so promising. The city is growing and almost every day brings in more people who come to make Florence their home. Never before has there been such a demand for the erection of buildings. Not a carpenter, nor mason, nor painter need be idle. In a very short time the present population of the city will be doubled.

The people of Florence are public spirited. This is evidenced by the cheerfulness with which they responded to the call for $10,000 to secure the smelter. Almost the full amount has already been subscribed. A splendid feature of the matter is that the donation was not made alone by men of means. Dozens of clerks and salesmen have shown an interest in the welfare of the city by contributing liberally to this fund. Florence knows that progress is stamped upon our city and that faith in her future is justified by the people. Florence is advancing. Her pay rolls are increasing. Real estate is moving. Houses are building. Laboring men are employed. Her people are prosperous and happy.

LONGMONT'S POSSESSIONS AND POSSIBILITIES

(Longmont Ledger.)

It has
Two banks,
One creamery,
Three flour mills,
Electric light plant,
Eight grocery stores,
One canning factory,
Good public schools,
Seven dry goods and notion stores,
Two regular hotels, besides restaurants and lodging houses.

Without going into further details this will show to a business man the volume of business done in this city of the second class, with a population which we believe will show three thousand.

One peculiarity of the people of Longmont remains the same that it has since its organization as a colony. That is, there are no real wealthy ones residing in the town. All are equally rustling for a living, and equally interested in its growth.

It is one of the prettiest towns in the state, almost a big grove in the summer, surrounded by the best agricultural land in this state or any other, water as pure as can be had from the mountains, two railroads, the Colorado & Southern and the Burlington [illegible]

[illegible] capital [illegible] all may, that homes [illegible] more quiet than the bustle of a large city, and where about an hour and a half ride will take them to Denver. During the summer months the Burlington makes two trips a day.

Too much cannot be said of the surrounding agricultural district. The valley of the St. Vrain, extending about 25 miles east and west, with a varying width of several miles each side of the creek, and containing about 200 square miles, divided into thrifty farms, and which it is not at all unusual to hear from at the rate of 50 bushels of wheat to the acre, and as high as 12 has been known. When a farmer gets 20 to 25 bushels he calls it half a crop. Wheat and potatoes may be called the staples, though the careful farmer raises pretty much everything that can be grown in the temperate zone. The fact that a 160 acre farm is considered worth $10,000 is a point to consider.

St. Vrain creek is a wonderful stream considering what it accomplishes. The number of ditches taken from the St. Vrain and Left Hand creeks is 61, with a total mileage of 234. Many of these are small private ditches, the four largest aggregating 118 miles in length.

We need more than anything else men of independent capital who will employ it in factory purposes. This in connection with what we now have will make Longmont one of the finest home cities in the west.

GREAT MEN AND FAME.

(New York Tribune.)

The eightieth anniversary of Herbert Spencer's birth, which occurred on April 27, brought to the venerable thinker many tributes of appreciation and [illegible] from every civilized country in the world. The press also afforded the occasion to review the great service rendered by the "modern Aristotle," as Spencer has sometimes been called. But in some cases surprise has been expressed that in spite of his great services his name is almost unknown to the general public. There can be, however, no surprise that such is the case. Why should average people about Spencer? He has not done the thinking for the populace, but for a comparatively small number of specialists, the men who are the active leaders in the various departments of applied science. It is these men who have profited by the lifework of Spencer. It is they, and they alone, who are able to understand it and estimate it at its true value. And it is they who, by popularizing and applying the philosophy of Spencer to the concrete facts of life, will make Herbert Spencer a vital factor in the progressive civilization of the age. Spencer the man could not be a familiar and popular idol. With the modesty of a thinker and student he would shrink from such a recognition. It is a great enough fame for him that he has been a leader of thinkers, not, always infallible, but always inspiring and helpful.

There is a curiously mistaken idea abroad that the world must always be neglecting its great men. Yet history is full of instances to the contrary. Moses, perhaps the greatest lawgiver that ever lived; Socrates, whose fame today vivifies a luster on the very name of ancient Athens; Shakespeare, whom posterity has immortalized, and Milton, who was glad to get $5 for "Paradise Lost," were almost unrecognized by the general public of their day. There are fully recognizable by the public. Among these may be mentioned the military and naval hero and the statesman who has the good luck to succeed. Such men are sure to receive a contemporaneous reward in the plaudits of our fellows. But such popular recognition makes no man great—nor does it insure an immortality of fame. On the contrary, [illegible] popular verdicts. How many great men have been acclaimed whose very names are today unknown! How many books have been hailed with a whirlwind of applause which have been long ago forgotten in the dust heap of oblivion! How many leaders of great movements in the past lie buried today under the debris of the movements they led! In point of fact the undiscriminating recognition of the public may be an actual handicap to a man who has a great work to do or an important message to deliver to the world. Everything which does not [illegible] worth doing must in a measure live apart from men, so that he can clearly distinguish the message that comes to his soul. Who could imagine a Herbert Spencer or a John Ruskin living in the strident clamor of the populace, and bending all his energies to get the good opinion of the unthinking multitude? The thing is unthinkable. It is for humanity, and not the multitude nor man or woman of their own time that they work, and therefore they are at their best when they shut themselves out from all the passing gusts of ephemeral praise or blame.

The modern democratic spirit has done much for the splitting of humanity. It has asserted and made good the claims of democracy against the false princes of the race, against the claims of kingcraft and priestcraft. It has taught the humblest human being to think and act for himself and has shown him that no [illegible] can make those who aspire to rule over him. [illegible] a democracy has its [illegible] tions. It cannot make or unmake a thinker, an investigator, a philosopher. It could not by any expression of opinion either advance or retard the work done by a Spencer, a Darwin or a Huxley. The thinker could not have been discovered by popular vote, nor would his discovery, popular vote, nor would its value to mankind be lessened in the slightest degree by the universal opinion of the populace. Thrones have crumbled, mitres have fallen, and privileged orders of nobility have melted away before the anger of the people. But one genuine aristocrat still remains, and always will remain—the thinker whose mission it is to tell the truth even to the people.

Appendicitis and Imagination.

(Chicago Times-Herald.)

That people can imagine themselves into sick beds has long been an established fact by men who practice medicine, and the belief that the bread pill is one of the most potent remedies in the physician's case was never more general than it is today. Since the beginning of the appendicitis fad the spread of imaginary ills has been much worse than ever before. Fame in their sides now are sure to throw about three out of five people into a terrible state of alarm. They used to disregard these things, but appendicitis has wrought a change, and it seems that everybody or nearly everybody now arises in the morning fully expecting to be spread upon the dissecting table before night. A New Orleans physician in a recent interview on this subject related an experience that is worth recording.

"A nervous man recently called on me (this is the doctor's story) and asked, in what part of the abdomen are the premonitory pains of appendicitis felt? On the left side, exactly here, I replied, indicating a spot a little above the point of the hip bone. He went out and the next afternoon I was summoned in hot haste to the St. Charles Hotel. I found the patient writhing on his bed, his forehead beaded with sweat and his whole appearance indicating intense suffering. 'I have an attack of appendicitis, he groaned, and I'm a dead man. I'll never survive an operation.' Where do you feel pain? I asked. 'Oh, right here,' he replied, putting his finger on the spot I had located at the office. 'I feel as if someone had a knife in me there and was turning it around!' Well, then it isn't appendicitis, at any rate, I said emphatically, because that is the wrong side. 'The wrong side!' he exclaimed, glaring at me indignantly. 'Why, you told me yourself it was on the left!' Then I must have been abstracted, I replied calmly. I should have said the right. I prescribed something that would not hurt him, and I learned afterward that he ate his dinner in the dining-room the same evening. There was no doubt in his pain when I pailed, but you can make your finger ache merely by concentrating your attention on it for a few moments."

All that this medical gentleman would seem to have rendered a service to humanity in showing the absurdity of the fault of jumping to the conclusion that every pain in the side is sure sign of the presence of appendicitis, but when we stop to think, but when we find that he has made matter we find that he has done more harm than good. Many people definitely located the spot where appendicitis pang may be felt make itself felt that, through doubts which people will have their sides have clung to them must hereafter vanish from the mind of many of those who have felt twinges at the fatal point.

After, people generally know just how and when to deal with the vermiform appendix. It is to be feared that people will begins it is to be feared that people will expect a new outbreak of the previous epidemics, of that malady that has [illegible] glorious and enlightened

Judge Wilson in Court of Appeals Yesterday Ruled Against the County in the South Park Site Suit.

Will the El Paso county court house be erected in the South Park and if not where will it be erected?

That is the question that is being asked by the people of the county this month and as yet there is no one who will undertake to answer it.

The situation is this. The county believed to be a good title to the ground in the South park upon which they have begun the erection of the court house and they then sold the old site for a [illegible]

The court of appeals in Denver has decided that the county cannot erect its building in the South park if the plaintiffs in the suit of McIntyre et al vs the Board of Commissioners of El Paso county, will not permit it.

What is the proper course to pursue will be the subject for consideration at a meeting of the board of commissioners today.

A Much Agitated Question

When the subject of a site for the court house was first mooted it was regarded by all as an open subject. There was outside the city limits of the South park as much if not more of a strong position from the standpoint of the city limits of the city of Colorado Springs and [illegible] that by the removal of the court house their property would be depreciated. Accordingly when the park site was decided to be certain of selection the opposition began action in the courts to defeat its location there. Two suits were brought.

One was against the commissioners to compel them to [illegible] the old site [illegible] between them if and the county [illegible] provided that [illegible] should for the property owned in the property should be a court house erected in the property city. This case was tried before Judge Stimson in the local district court and taken to the court of appeals. Both courts ruled in favor of the defendants on the ground that the contract referred to in the complaint was in violation of public policy and could not be enforced.

So the commissioners could not be compelled to erect the new building on the old site.

The McIntyre Case

Fearing that they would be unable to win out on the above suit the attorneys started at the same time a second one in which the plaintiffs were T. F. McIntyre et al, these plaintiffs being resident property owners in Colorado Springs (not necessarily adjacent property holders) and their complaint was based on two propositions.

First that the plaintiffs were entitled to bring the suit merely as taxpayers of Colorado Springs property owners for themselves and for others similarly situated and second that the park having been dedicated to the city of Colorado Springs for the building purposes and parks the city could not give to the county any title to the ground that would be good and that the county cannot erect its building on the site.

The case was filed in the district court and the defense filed a demurrer which was sustained by Judge Stimson and plaintiffs filed an amended complaint. Another demurrer being made another sustaining order was entered by Judge Stimson and the case was dismissed. Plaintiffs appealed to the court of appeals and the question was argued before that bench on April 9th.

Yesterday's ruling in this court will upon the announcement of the decision [illegible] an injunction to restrain the county from building in the South park if such injunction is demanded by the plaintiffs. This injunction would be a temporary one to stand until the case could be tried on its merits. If any injunction is asked for it will be a perpetual one and if this is secured the county will stand without the old site and unable to build on the new.

Has Spent $15,000.

County Commissioner Stetson when asked what he expected to be the outcome of the matter said: [illegible] considering the matter of replacing washed out writers and all we know of the McIntyre suit is that the ruling in the plaintiff's favor has been made. [illegible] that [illegible] I am exceedingly sorry and surprised at the ruling. We did not regard it as at all probable. We will consider the whole matter at our meeting tomorrow and [illegible] I do not even feel able to [illegible] action. I do not even feel able to say what we will do. We may [illegible] until an injunction stops us. We may continue to carry on and we may sustain pending action by the plaintiffs in the suit.

What our expenditure has been so far [illegible] I am not able to state exactly but with the materials that we have on hand it will approximate $15,000.

From the Attorneys

The attorneys for the plaintiffs were originally Messrs R F Lewis and J Kennedy. Mr Lewis withdrew from the case [illegible] being and Counsel appeared for the defense Mr J C Helm of Denver [illegible] as counsel with Mr Kennedy for the plaintiffs.

[illegible] said: Of course I am very much pleased over the result of the hearing in the upper court. I was confident all the time but most people [illegible] I any [illegible] do not know whether the plaintiffs [illegible] ruling in their favor [illegible] advantage of the ruling in their favor but if any injunction at all is asked for we will seek a perpetual one.

I am of the opinion that if these plaintiffs should be willing to compromise the matter in any way or to let it drop no one else could take a suit and drop it on the same grounds. These plaintiffs instituted their action before the work on the building was begun and I am inclined to think that the courts would not be in favor of the county being compelled to stop the expenditure of money before beginning the expenditure of money before making application to the courts for a restraining order.

I am not sorry for the county. The commissioners should have waited until the matter was settled before they began to spend the people's money on [illegible] the fact that our appeal was pending when they began and everything that they have done was with that knowledge. What the plaintiffs will do now I [illegible]

J F McIntyre one of the complainants in the suit to retain Alamo square for park purposes stated last night that the line of action for his side had not yet been determined upon. Matters will be arranged at once so that can [illegible] this week. It is likely that a temporary injunction will be asked for to restrain the county from building until the case is retried on its merits when the injunction will be dissolved or perpetuated.

Judge J C Helm of Denver had conferred with Mr McIntyre immediately after the announcement of the decision.

Chinese Enter by The Mexican Border

S B McMaines of Laredo Tex believes the stringent law affecting Chinese immigration is [illegible] for accomplishing its purpose because of the tax laws of Mexico. Mr McMaines is [illegible] mining property and may make his future home in Colorado Springs. For ten years he has devoted most of his time to mining in Old Mexico principally at Zacatecas on the Mexican Central railroad. He said yesterday:

"If the borders between Mexico and the United States were watched as carefully as the Pacific coast of the latter the Chinese immigrants might be restricted but since the California [illegible] has been [illegible] of the lower element [illegible] difficult [illegible] the [illegible] many of them because they are fugitives have found a way to get in and thousands of them are using it every year. They get into Mexico and work their way across the country to the United States where they manage to slip through. [illegible] will go to work for the federal courts are reported [illegible] than [illegible] few years ago and the number is steadily growing. I got Denver papers at my camp, seven miles from Zacatecas, every week, and in this very district I have noticed many deportments. Along the railroads plantations and particularly in the larger cities and towns the Chinese work for their board or a pittance until an opportunity [illegible] step toward the United States. They are seriously impairing the resources of the Mexican [illegible] work cheaper in many instances than the people who get but 15 cents a day.

If the influx continues to grow as it has in the last two years I believe there will be serious trouble down near the coast, where the Chinese are getting so thick that the labor problem is growing serious. They have already taken most of the places on some of the new railroads that are building in all parts of the republic.

The following letter speaks for itself. It is from Congressman Ben F Caldwell, of Illinois.

House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., May 11, 190[illegible]

Colorado Springs, Colo.

Gentlemen: [illegible] I pay [illegible] I will [illegible] afford me great pleasure to do anything I can to aid your member of congress in securing an appropriation for a public building in your city.

Inasmuch as I have a bill pending for a public building at Decatur in the district which I represent I would expect to and I know that I would receive due reciprocity from Congressman Bell.

I am not on the committee on public buildings and grounds which will report either favorably or unfavorably on that bill and it cannot be of service until it comes up on the floor.

I am, sir, as ever,

Very respectfully,

Ben F Caldwell

Postmaster Dana yesterday afternoon concluded to make a tour of the boxes on the outside of the postoffice. He had heard that there was a number of people who make a habit of neglecting the locking of their boxes after having taken their mail and the investigation was for the purpose of satisfying himself of the truth of the story.

What I saw utterly astonished me, said Mr Dana. In a row of twenty lock boxes there were eight on which the combination had not been turned after the mail had been taken out. It is a wonder that there is no more mail taken out of the boxes than there is when and that is done with the public [illegible] open on the [illegible] mail is taken out and deliberately vandals the postoffice department [illegible] to see whether the boxes are locked or not.

Dr W W Rice of Victoria, Tex wrote to Secretary Gilbert Mitchell that a number of moneyed men in that section of the Lone Star state contemplated locating in Colorado Springs and would like all the information he could offer as to resources future etc. The advertisement the city has received in recent months through publication of substantial enterprises by home capital has attracted these gentlemen several of whom will make their homes here in the near future.

STRATTON'S INDEPENDENCE REPORTS

During the Month of April Over 2,600 Tons of Ore Were Produced Valued at About $190,000.

During the month of April over 2,600 tons of ore were shipped to the smelters, the product yielding which has a value of about $190,000. The 33 cars of the daily shipments are cabled to London, together with Mr. T. A. Rickard's report for the month of March, showing very plainly how splendidly the mine is doing. The list of shipments and Mr. Rickard's report are as follows:

Date	Tonnage	Average of Mine Assays.	Approx. Value
April 4	90	4¼	£1530
April 5	90	3¾	1350

April 25	10	3½	140
April 26	110	3½	1610
April 27	200	3¼	2600
April 28	100	3½	1400

Mr. T. A. Rickard, the company's consulting engineer, gives the following satisfactory particulars in his report of March:

First Level—Drive 135 ft. In the crosscut to the Emerson vein a small seam of ore was intersected. Raise 304 from the 2d level is coming up in sections.

Second Level—A crosscut 42 feet long was extended to cut the ledge, starting further to the east than any of the others. We are now working on two veins which are both rich, these belong to the independence system. The [illegible] south. In the south [illegible] feet wide and carries 24 [illegible]

[illegible] in the granite stope of the Independence vein, ranging 3½ ft. of 2 oz. stuff in the hanging wall branch of the Bobtail. In the drift development will be a length of 100 feet of good mill [illegible] sink 4 ft. in this [illegible] lies in the [illegible] that the Bobtail penetrated that [illegible] in this part of the mine. [illegible] last month of Winze 402 as it does at the 4th level, is a series of [illegible] with a total width of 20 feet and 7 feet. A crosscut was run up from this point which passed through a phonolite dyke 6 ft. wide, showing extremely rich ore on both sides of it. At the southern end of the workings, just north of the dyke, a crosscut has been driven to cut a higher intermediate vein carrying 2 ft. of rich ore.

Satisfactory Development.

Fourth Level—Drives in feet. Raises 17 feet. A discovery was made by a raise put up from the drive on the Bobtail lode at a point 42 feet south of the main crosscut. A prospecting drive opened up a mass of rich ore which spreads into the ground over the crosscut and continues into a large block of unexplored ground between the Bobtail and Emerson veins. The ore in the stope averaged 11 feet in width and is 14 feet wide in the present end of the prospecting drive. It averages fully 3 ozs. per ton. Another satisfactory development occurred on the Independence vein in Winze 404 and Winze 402 where on cutting down from the prospecting drive to the new level it was found that the ore averaged [illegible] ozs. per ton for a width of 5 ft. Rich stringers still extend into each side of the level proving the existence of a large mass of rich ore in this block.

Fifth Level—Drives 95 ft. Raises 37 ft. On the Emerson lode the ore in the stopes had an average width of 2½ ft. and an average value of 4 ozs. per ton. At the end of the drive extended northward and southward from Raise 310 for this length of 95 ft. the ore average 6 ft. in width and carried 4 ozs. per ton. On the six vein the vein in the stopes yielded an average of 4 ft. carrying 1¼ ozs. per ton. On the Independence the stopes yielded an Average of 7 ft. of 4 to 4½ Oz. Ore.

Seventh Level—A prospect drive on a lateral vein was extended 22 ft. the ore averaged 1½ oz. per ton. This is a new discovery.

Eighth Level—A drive 75 ft. long has connected Raise 801 with Raise 802 [illegible] Raise 802 was also connected with the level giving the contin[illegible] per ton. [illegible]

Six to Eight Ozs. of Gold Per Ton.

[illegible] Raise 801 is north of Raise 801 [illegible] feet wide and carries 24 [illegible]

Noteworthy Discoveries.

General Remarks—The returns from shipments made during the month were up to the usual average. Development work met with some unusual success. The discoveries at the two lower levels being especially noteworthy. The big mass of ore encountered on the 4th level in unexplored ground between the Bobtail and Emerson veins is of considerable importance. As the mine becomes more fully explored we find that there are many of these [illegible] masses of ore, the occurrence of which is due to flat veins which cross the system of approximately vertical lodes. The result is satisfactory, since the working of them contributes a large tonnage of good ore without drawing upon our ordinary reserves.

Yesterday the stock of the Butterfly Terrible Gold Mining company was listed as a shipping mine on the Colorado Springs Mining stock exchange and although the stock was not called and no quotation was made it is expected that it will open at about 20 cents the price at which the stock has been traded.

This company, which the officers claim is a [illegible] basis on a property [illegible] the San Miguel county belt, consisting of the Butterfly and Buckeye [illegible] acres, Terrible 8.94 acres, Florida No. 1 and Florida No. 2, one entry 20.70 acres, Balm of Gilead 10.331 acres, Buckeye No. 2 10.331 acres, B. B. which includes nearly with the Balm of Gilead, Yellow Boy, which closes Ida No. 2, Lucky No. 2 and Balm of Gilead and has added to its area of ground not covered by those two locations. The total area is 71 acres, of which 45.45 acres are patented. The balance of the [illegible] it is thought as there is no litigation pending.

The San Juan district where this company's properties are located has been known as a stock [illegible] though some of the largest producers in the state are in that locality, notably the Smuggler-Union, the Gold King at Tom Boy at Telluride and a little further away the Camp Bird at Ouray, being perhaps the best known and which these mines have nothing to do with the Butterfly, the permanency of which will depend this season as many [illegible] beyond question as many [illegible] in the vicinity have been working on low grade ore at a good profit for the last 15 or 20 years.

This company was incorporated March 28 last and on the following day the group of claims was deeded to it free of all incumbrance. The company is capitalized for $1,500,000 and there are 1,000,000 shares in the treasury. After all the expenses of incorporation were paid $10,000 remained in the treasury as working capital. The officers of the company are Calvin Bullock, Denver, president; R. Regan, Silverton, vice president; Francis J. Hinde, Colorado Springs, secretary; the International Trust Co., Denver, treasurer.

Since the acquisition of the property by the company it has been the paramount effort of the management to get everything in readiness for a big production. There are improvements on the ground valued at $65,000 which include a 20 stamp mill, Otto Krick Tramway, 1,200 ft. long, ore bins, crushers, etc. Other improvements are in the course of erection so as to enable active mining to be carried on [illegible] possible. There has been only time to get returns from the mine [illegible] million [illegible] 1,911 lbs. at the result of a trial run of nine days and 31 tons of ore [illegible] per cent dividends and this does not include the smelting grade ore which it is estimated will be the most important source of income.

There are a mile and a half of workings and the property is operated entirely by tunnels, which avoids all trouble with water. Less than 10 per cent of the property has been prospected and there are vast ore reserves already blocked out. The ore carries silver [illegible] as well as gold.

TWO MORE KURIE DEALS

Whoever are the parties who are operating through Mr. C. W. Kurie they evidently are getting a good foothold in Cripple Creek. Hardly a day goes by [illegible] without hearing of some [illegible] deal. This morning [illegible] with having closed up another deal and this morning [illegible] present to the public [illegible] that two more deals are now matter of history. Both properties [illegible] within the past three months [illegible] not known [illegible] whom the property is bought and this time the [illegible] of operations shifts to Womack hill where two claims have been secured. Both of them are excellently located and [illegible] claims [illegible] longer [illegible] Gold King company.

[illegible] half interest in the New Boston fraction and the other was the direct purchase of the Jewel claim from J. C. McCoy, Frank Ige and others. The details in regard to the transactions are not at hand but that the claims have been secured is learned from very reliable authority. The [illegible] last night [illegible] ment to be [illegible] from Mr. Kurie.

THE DETROIT ANNUAL MEETING

The regular annual stockholders meeting of the Detroit Gold Mining [illegible] held in this city yesterday, which [illegible] of 90,000,000 shares of stock outstanding there were represented at the meeting either personally or by proxy 72,500 shares. The meeting listened to the reports of the officers and then elected the following directors to serve for the ensuing year: W. A. Shepard, Geo. H. [illegible], A. C. Orham, Charles Ing and J. G. Tuttle.

The officers reported that the company is in a good condition with no indebtedness and nearly 1,000,000 shares in the treasury. The new claim [illegible] the company to divide five [illegible] between the Hoosier and C. C. and M. properties on Tenderfoot hill. Legal to Cockburn and associates who are prosecuting active development work with encouraging results. Trenching on the claim proved that the [illegible] vein crossed the property and the company having funds in the treasury sunk a fine double compartment shaft to the depth of 200 feet and cross-cut for the vein, having done in all about 50 feet of drifting. Then the claim was leased and the lessees are drifting on the vein which was successfully cut and although the vein is by no means barren, and [illegible] ore so far is not of pay value.

After the adjournment of the stockholders meeting the newly elected directors met and chose the following officers to serve the company for the following year: President, W. A. Shepard; vice president, George A. Cockburn; secretary and treasurer, George H. Lee.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

It was reported around town yesterday that the recent visit of Governor Thomas to this city was based on a request made by the Portland his excellency supposed to represent capitalists who have an eye of that much sought after mine. It is understood that an offer was made to take the mine at any reasonable figure which the management would name and which a thorough examination of the property would be made and the great mine turned over to those who seek it. Just what a reasonable price for the Portland would be might easily perplex the management as well as the public at large. Every day vast ore reserves or rich new ore bodies are added to the richness of the property and in view of the present value of the property it would be almost impossible for the management to put any price upon it which it might be small enough to be reasonable to would-be buyers and the officers of the great Tramway will probably take this view of the situation and either refuse to consider naming a price or else make one which will effectively dispose of the negotiator for the mine. The stock was strong yesterday selling again at $7.60 and those who are buying seem to be of the opinion that if a price were put on the mine even an extremely reasonable one would be in advance of that which the present stock valuation puts upon it.

TRADE GRANTED ON SHANNON CO'S PROPERTY

A lease has been granted to Charles Bennett, J. H. Will and Daniel Ruckman on the Mountain Beauty claim of the Shannon company who have now their work well under way. They agreed to put down a large double compartment shaft to the depth of 200 feet and already at the depth of 55 feet they have encountered pay ore. The lease runs for two years from March 1st, calls for 90 per cent flat royalties and [illegible] shifts a month. It is reported that the Caledonia property within a stone's throw of the Mountain Beauty claim is now free of water which prevented work there so long and this gives the lessees a good hope that their shaft will soon be free from the liquid encumbrance. Although the values at the [illegible] are very [illegible] they apparently indicate the presence of a large ore body in the vein which the lessees expect they will encounter before they have accomplished the 200 feet of sinking.

PRICE AND ASSOCIATES PRODUCE RETURNS.

Returns received on a late shipment of 37 tons of mill ore from the Price and associates lease on the main workings of the Black Bell on Beacon hill give values of $33.46 a ton.

MACHINERY IS NOW ON THE RENO CLAIM

At a directors' meeting of the Reno Gold Mining company recently held it was noted that [illegible] properties in Poverty gulch should be worked [illegible] and a [illegible] plant of machinery is on the Reno claim and a large double compartment shaft is in process of sinking and will be continued to the depth of 200 feet. The company intends that the shaft shall be [illegible] and it is expected that before the 200 limit has been attained results will have come from the work.

ELKTON WAS A STRONG STOCK YESTERDAY.

Among the good things on the Colorado Springs Mining stock exchange yesterday was Elkton which advanced [illegible] although it was fractionally weaker than $1.40 at the close. The cause for this is undoubtedly the extraordinary richness of the famous Walter shoot in the 600 foot level which has not been thoroughly proved up and from which such a quantity of high grade ore was shipped last month that the average value of the mine's output was raised one ounce and the total value of the output for the month of April was $400,000. It is said on all sides that the Elkton does not need Terrible Tom and Terrible Dave to assist it in paying the $1,000 a quarter which the new Elkton company will pay on the increased capitalization. In sympathy with the Elkton Raven and Terrible Tom were somewhat stronger yesterday. There was an insinuating rumor going the rounds all day that this new richness of Elkton unknown at the time the deal was agreed on by the directors of the three companies might prevent the consummation of the big deal as there are some stockholders who are very firm in their assertion that Elkton is getting the worst of it and obstinate in their declarations that they will fight a consolidation.

FREEPORT AND C. C. CO RECEIVE RETURNS ON ORE

Returns were received yesterday by Manager George Bent on a 45 ton shipment from the Freeport and Cripple Creek G. M. Co.'s lease on the Bonanza King. They were as follows:

Fifteen tons [illegible] and 30 tons [illegible] south end of the Bonanza King claim near the Midget on Gold hill. The vein is from 12 inches to two and one-half feet wide and drifting is being pushed at a depth of 200 feet since January 1 the mine has produced $8,100 net.

OIL CO'S REPRESENTATIVE LOCATING IN routt CO.

The Gazette has received information from Steamboat Springs, Routt county, that for the past fifteen days several strangers have been riding over the country near that town on the Bear and Elk rivers between Steamboat Springs and Hayden. It now comes to light that they are representatives of the [illegible] oil companies securing lands by lease and location. Nearly 5,000 acres have been secured upon which active development must be in operation within four months. Everyone says the Gazette correspondent seems to have awakened to the situation and are leasing oil lands. This oil belt has been known for years, so great perils are anticipated for Routt county.

BONBRIGHT & CO SECURES OPTION ON LEAD MINES.

The banking and brokerage house of Wm. P. Bonbright & Co. has secured an option on a large group of lead-zinc mines near Hanover, New Mexico. The option is at a large figure and a company may be formed to secure the properties.

The matter is now in the hands of Belgian capitalists who have the deal under consideration. The showing at the properties is said to be excellent and it is possible that the option will be taken up.

GOLDSTONE CO. LEASES BABY FOR THREE YEARS

A three years lease has been granted on the Baby lode on the Goldstone company to the Universal Leasing company which is composed of shareholders in Harrisburg, Pa. The company has contracted with the La Belle Power company at Goldfield for an electric hoist and power. A contract has also been let to sink the shaft 300 feet. Lumber is already on the ground for the erection of a shaft house and other buildings.

PHARMACIST DIRECTORS ARE CONSIDERING FUTURE PLANS.

Mr. A. D. Jones, a director of the Pharmacist Consolidated Mining company left for Cripple Creek yesterday. He will confer with Dr. Chambers who with him composes a committee on operations. They will decide upon the future policy of the company with regard to working the claim. The probabilities are that the property will be leased in two blocks and not operated on company account as has been hinted might be done.

WORK ON NEW COLORADO CITY MILL IS STARTED

Look Out for a Big Market.

Notwithstanding Stocks have advanced strongly during the past two weeks, a greater advance will surely come. Prices are still low in the case of many of the really meritorious Stocks. Those who were waiting for "the bottom of the market" a few weeks ago, now see the short-sightedness of such a course. It is infinitely better to buy within half a cent or a cent of the bottom than it is to wait and then buy several cents higher. Those few cents would now represent a good profit had you not waited "for the bottom." There are many good purchases on the list now. Write us, and we will give you our carefully-considered recommendations.

A GOLD HILL SNAP.

A certain Gold Hill Stock represents one of the best "buys" on the list, in our opinion. The company is soundly managed, and owns a fine claim on the very richest part of Gold Hill. The two sets of lessees now working this claim have ore. The Stock is cheap, and is a snap at present prices.

Particulars upon request.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, May 14.—The market opened very well on this the first day of the new week, with the trading fairly lively, and prices generally stronger than they were at the close of last week. The trading in the dividend payers which has been one of the good features of the market is now rivalled by the interest shown in the prospects list, and the business done in that department is improving and prices are fairly strong, although some instances of weakness are apparent.

The trading did not develop many features of unusual interest in any of the departments but probably the most conspicuous feature of the morning's business was the great strength manifested by Elkton, which advanced 2½ cents beyond the price at which the stock sold on Saturday, or to $1.35½, under light trading, however, only 1,500 shares changing hands. The cause for this decided strength is undoubtedly due to the extremely good showing which the mine is making. The value of the output, it is said, has greatly increased and the mine is producing enough ore to pay the dividends of the consolidated company without the help of either Raven or Tornado. Naturally the good showing in Elkton is responsible for a sympathetic strength in Raven stock, which advanced to 70½, and 1,000 shares of Tornado sold at 69. Isabella was stronger this morning at $1.22, and Portland sold at $2.80. Lexington, Specimen and Work, however, are lower.

Trading in the other departments was not particularly interesting. In the prospects list was a good trader, although the price was off a point, and a few fractional gains were noticed. Altogether the trading in all the lists may be considered very satisfactory.

The sales for the day amounted to 513,700 shares exchanged, the total cash value being $93,005.37.

$2,250,000

Was the output in gold of the Cripple Creek mines for the month of March. This is at the rate of $27,000,000 for the year 1900. Unless the threatened shut-down of many mines occurs, on account of excessive transportation and reduction charges, the output will exceed $27,000,000, and may reach $30,000,000. This is a wonderful record for a district only nine years old, but it is only the beginning. The number of producing and dividend paying mines is steadily increasing and it will be years before the maximum output of the mines is reached.

WHY ARE PRICES FALLING?

I am receiving numerous inquiries from all over the United States why many stocks are falling in price in spite of the splendid condition of the mines. INFLATION IS THE CAUSE. Owing to this splendid condition of the mines, owing to the immense output of gold from the good mines, it has been possible for some companies to place their stocks at far above the intrinsic value of their properties. Other stocks have advanced through sympathy with good stocks or through shrewd manipulation far beyond any price warranted by the development, present condition or future prospects of their mining claims. These fictitious valuations could not be maintained and a reaction was inevitable. Nicely worded prospectuses filled with "glittering generalities" and extravagant promises may sell stock, reports of big strikes and exhibits of high assays may satisfy the purchaser for a time, but soon or late, the truth becomes known. If a claim is shipping a few tons of ore per month, the agony is often prolonged and the public led to believe that another dividend payer is budding out.

It is the flotation of so many of these inflated stocks that is causing a steady drop in prices, and the threatened shut-down of the mines is not the prime cause, but only gives another shove.

The market moves up or down usually as a whole. Many good stocks have been caught in the general downward movement and are selling far below their actual value. These stocks will react and are now splendid investments.

WILD OUT YOUR INFLATED STOCKS

The longer you hang on to them, hoping for a turn, the more money you will lose. Among the most inflated stocks on the list, in my opinion, are ALERT, ALAMO, COLORADO CITY AND MANITOU, GOLD SOVEREIGN, LEXINGTON, NATIONAL, PAPOOSE, POINTER and VOLCANO. All of these are a mile down to one-third or one-quarter of their actual selling price.

The San Diego Union in a recent issue, published the following dispatch from the Hotel Del Coronado, which will be of interest in Colorado Springs: Hotel del Coronado—The sea was tempting yesterday and Mr. Ross chartered the power yacht May for a fishing expedition off point Loma, and invited the Rev. Dr. W. H. W. Bogle of Colorado Springs to accompany him upon the trip. The gentlemen, who are expert fishermen found fish biting freely, moreover Captain Dunne knows where the brilliant-hued sheephead love to congregate, and thither sped the May. Between fifteen and twenty of these fish were caught, and they were weighty ones too, besides a dozen sea bass, five sculpin, a most curious crab-apple green fish that looked as if it might have [illegible] a fairy story, rather than the sea, while the catch ended with a couple of big cod-fish. One of these took rather an unusual way of being captured. A small fish was being brought in, when along came the cod, taking a bite of the little fish the great one swallowed the hidden hook, to its own eternal undoing.

LISTEN—

At 50c yard we have too many fancy Taffeta Silks, and the prices that we make for this week are almost ridiculous: good quality silks 50c, instead of 69c, 95c and $1.00 a yard.

At 69c yard a large assortment of the fancy Silks that sold up to $1.25 yard, reduced to 69c yard.

The proper style for Silk Suits this [illegible] blue, [illegible] strong [illegible] brown, with contrasting white and colored hair.

AMONG THE WASH WAISTS

Sales in this department are daily increasing. We are showing the best assortment we have ever offered.

At 69c Ladies' Wash Waists, made of pretty fast color Ginghams, box French back, eight tucks in front, instead of 89c, reduced to 69c.

Plenty of swell styles made of fine dainty materials up to $3.50, and every waist in this department has genuine value in it for the price asked.

The Sparkle of Life

Is generated by Nervous Energy

You can't have good health and weak nerves at the same time. Your general health is good or bad, according to the condition of your nerves. No theory in this; it is simply founded upon the old law of cause and effect.

Nerve force gives buoyancy, vim and power to both body and brain.

Be convinced of the above facts by trying a box of Paino Tablets. The greatest nerve remedy of the age. They cure debility.
